PIGSKIN ARTISTS BUSY ON GRIDIRON

Call for Candidates Brings Out Much Promising Material for Wildcat Team.

COACH BRUMMAGE OPTIMISTIC

No time was lost by Coach Brummage in calling out candidates for this year's Wildcat eleven. Twenty-two men answered the call Monday afternoon and more have been coming out since. Four last year "K" men were among the pioneers on Monday, they being Jim Park, captain; Jimmy Hedges, Carl Zerfoss, and Tuttle. All are in fine shape for the hard season that confronts the team.

Old Men in Shape.

Captain ("Turkey") Park is in first class shape and looks able to go through a hard game right now. "Turkey" is very optimistic over the prospects for a fine team this year as is Coach Brummage. Tuttle looks as good as ever, and all the old Wildcat followers know how good that is. Carl Zerfoss and Hedges are in fine trim and will be of great help to the team. "Gyp" Downing is also back as is Abe Roth and Paul Hite, all last year letter (Continued on Page Three.)

TWO CHEMISTS GO TO BOSTON TECH

Thomas Ott and William H. McAdams Appointed Assistant Professors.

Thomas F. Ott and William H. McAdams have been appointed Assistant Professors in the Institute of Technology, Boston, Mass., and will leave for the East next Monday to take up their duties. The appointment of the University men is the first time that these assistant positions were ever granted to other than graduates of the Institute of Technology.

Mr. Ott is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ott, of this city, and graduated from State University in 1907, receiving at that time his Bachelor of Science degree, with Chemistry Major. After graduation he held the position of Chief Chemist of the Indian Refining Company with headquarters at Georgetown for three years and since 1910 has been at State University as an instructor in chemistry. He received his Master's degree last June. In his new position, Mr. Ott will be assistant in research in the laboratory of applied chemistry and will devote his entire time to research work, studying especially petroleum, in which subject he has had large experience.

Mr. McAdams is a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. McAdams of this city. He graduated from State University in 1913, receiving his Bachelor degree and made his Master's degree last June. He will devote half of his time at the Institute of Technology to teaching, and the remainder to research work in the department of chemistry, which work will lead to the degree of Doctor of Science.

PRESIDENT BARKER GREETES STUDENTS

From the Varsity Hand-Book of 1914-15.

My Dear Young Friends:

It has been my custom in the past to write you a special greeting for the Y. M. C. A. Hand-Book. I assure you this is no merely formal or perfunctory duty, but a substantial pleasure performed with the deliberate purpose of being of some benefit to you during the coming year.

In the beginning I wish to impress upon you that Our Maker has so bound up our duty and our happiness that they are one and inseparable. What is that duty? First you owe a duty to God; to love him and to serve him with all your heart and all your strength and all your mind. The most splendid life is that which is spent in the Service of God.

You owe a duty to your parents. No life was ever worth the living which was not radiant with love of Mother and Father.

You owe a duty to your country. Help make it a great Nation. So live that your life will make for your country's glory. You owe a duty to your Alma Mater. Her reputation depends upon her student body. If you drink, or gamble, or in any way live depraved or frivolous lives her reputation will be even as you have lived.

You owe a great duty to yourself. Above all things be wise; and remember it was said of old by one who knew!

"And unto man he said,
Behold the fear of
The Lord that is Wisdom;
And to depart from evil
That is understanding."

I welcome you to State University, and I hope it will be of service to you, and that you will be of service to it.

Very sincerely your friend,
HENRY S. BARKER,
President.

STATE HALL OPENS TO MANY STUDENTS

Under the Direction of A. F. Wells, Formerly of Columbia Military Academy.

The State Hall opened Wednesday at noon with a large attendance. The work in preparing the student commons has been rushed to care for the large number of students. The opening auguries indicate that the commons is to become a popular part of college life. The hall is large and conveniently arranged, enwrapped with a beautiful white coat of lead and oil.

Mr. A. E. Wells, who has for many years had experience in like management, will be in charge and about three hundred students can be fed upon the campus.

Mr. Wells has stated that he intended to patronize home trade and also has employed several students to assist in the work.

LIEUTENANT ARTHUR UNDERWOOD ARRIVES

To Assume the Duties of Commandant, Succeeding Lieut. A. W. Gullion.

The new Commandant, after a summer visit at State, returned September 10th, to take charge of the military department. He is a graduate of West Point Military Academy and is a native Kentuckian. Lieutenant Gullion will remain with him for a few days to help arrange the new commandant's work.

The battalion was improved wonderfully by our late commandant, and by obtaining another from West Point. Military discipline from present indications, will remain on the upward incline.

NEW DEPARTMENT OF JOURNALISM

Added to Curriculum, Under Charge of Mr. Enoch Grehan.

MISS McLAUGHLIN ASSISTANT

The installing of the Department of Practical Journalism, which has been under consideration in the University for three years, has at last been accomplished and bids fair soon to become one of the popular schools of the University.

This department is in charge of Enoch Grehan, one of the best known newspaper men in the South. The papers of the State have extended to him their hearty good wishes and predict for his work gratifying success in developing newspaper men, even in excess of that which he attained when as city and managing editor on local papers he directed the energies of young reporters and invariably obtained good results. Mr. Grehan will be assisted in the work by Miss Marguerite McLaughlin, an alumna of State University, and formerly on the editorial staff of the Lexington Herald. She has had experience in the school news field, into which her efforts were especially directed by The Herald, but in the exacting field of general reporting such as Lexington affords.

Room 7, Hall O, Administration Building, has been refurnished in white and furnished for the Department of Journalism. An excellent lighting system has been installed and individual desks with comfortable chairs make it interesting and attractive to students. New typewriters for the use of the matriculates have been provided and students in Journalism will have the use of machines for preparation of their work.

The head of the department will be glad to meet any student of the University, whether he is a matriculate of the Department of Journalism or not, who has been interested in any of the publications that have been or are being issued by students.

The IDEA staff expects to have headquarters in the Department of Journalism, and work in co-operation with the school, while the editor, Mr. Clyde Taylor, will have a desk in the main room.

The Press Club, which has grown into an impressive organization in the last two years, will hold its weekly meetings in the Department of Journalism and the members will have opportunity to prepare their articles for State papers at any time during the afternoon that suits them. The exchange papers that are sent to them will be kept sufficiently long to give them an opportunity to read them.

The department has secured for the exchange list some of the leading papers of the country which will be kept on the exchange table also and may be read by the students for pastime and information or for study as will be the case when the student is matriculated in the department and

PROF. C. R. MELCHER NEW DEAN OF MEN

To Succeed the Late Vice-President, James G. White.

During the last annual commencement it was announced that the President had appointed Prof. C. R. Melcher as new dean of men, to succeed the late Prof. James White in that capacity.

Professor White toiled persistently to accomplish plans and methods whereby he could assist the boys. Whenever he was approached by any one, advice was given with deep sincerity.

The new dean will take up the work with the beginning of this session. He is a man fitted to advise Kentucky sons while in the institution and one who enjoys the high esteem of the student body.

ATHLETIC CAPTAINS TEAM MANAGERS

As Announced by the Athletic Committee for the Year of 14-15.

The captains of all teams are selected by the "K" members of that respective sport. As it is well known, James Park, star quarterback, will lead the foot ball team this Fall.

Ralph Morgan was selected captain of this year's basket ball bunch. Morgan has performed for two years and is an excellent all-around player.

On account of his ability, James Parks was also selected captain of the base ball team, while Abe Roth, the renowned track artist, leads the racers.

The managers are selected from the assistants chosen by the student athletic association. The athletic committee, one from foot ball assistants for manager and usually the assistant managers of other sports become managers.

W. B. Croan, a mechanical student, was selected to occupy the job as manager of foot ball. Abe Roth will have managership of basket ball. G. Campbell was selected to manage the track work and Clyde P. Taylor that of base ball.

Reading for the improvement of his style of writing.

Since the establishment of the department, would be established many young men and women over the State have written for information concerning the course and the outlook for the growth of the department is encouraging.

The practical plans of the work will include the preparation of news for daily papers, whether the news is ever published or not, the writing of news for the papers of the State, for The IDEA, the weekly publication, and the laying of the foundation for the publication of a weekly paper representative of the University, with the entire State of Kentucky for a field of circulation. The enthusiasm of those interested is unlimited and the plans for the development of the school grow larger daily.

UNIVERSITY Y. M. C. A. STATE DEVELOPS TWO ASSISTS STUDENTS Y. M. C. A. SECRETARIES

To Locate Rooms, Board and Employment.

Through the din and noise of the onrush of the hundreds of students, who have been coming in during the past week, there has always been a group of pleasant and helpful, though often tired, men representing the Young Men's Christian Association, who have been busy in doing for both new and old students such things as would best promote their ease and comfort.

The chairman of the fall campaign rush is Frank H. Kennedy, President of the Association. He has had the loyal and unremitting support of a score of the leading students of the University, on a number of committees who have been meeting all the trains for the past week, compiling room and board lists, checking baggage of all description, acting as Information Bureau, piloting new students as well as new members of the faculty to rooms, and even mating room mates.

Especially sought for has been the director, Ira M. Nickell, of the Employment Bureau, who has given his entire time to the interviewing and placing of scores of men in positions to help earn their expenses. The demand for help at the Bureau has been far beyond that of any previous years and the supply of work as limited as before, so his task of placing men will continue for some time.

The work of the students in the Association has been a great source of gratification to both President Barker and Secretary Hall. The loyalty of the men at their various posts has been remarked upon as out-reaching anything known in previous years.

C. E. Blevins and J. W. Sanford Installed in Their New Work This Fall.

The news of the fall would not be complete without mention being made of the whereabouts of two of the prominent members of the class of 1914. It was well known about commencement time that Charles E. Blevins, or more familiarly known as "Chief," would this Fall assume his duties at Georgia Tech. as Associate Secretary of the student association. "Chief" had about all of the honors one man might expect a student body to give him. He was worth it, too, being both a poet, orator and an athlete he naturally became a leader. His greatest honor, however, in his own words was "becoming president of the Young Men's Christian Association."

The delightful news also comes to us that W. J. Sanford, lovingly called "Piggy," is the first community boys' work secretary of the city of Greenwood, Miss. "Piggy" was a great athlete, perhaps the best all around man in track work that State ever produced, and a wonderful songster, and his voice will be greatly missed this year on the campus of the University. Late in his college life he united with the church and we are glad to know that he is now having a chance to use all of his powers in directing the boys of the city of Greenwood to a better life.

SENIOR CLASS RINGS READY FOR MEMBERS

The ring committee appointed to purchase Senior rings, are now in receipt of same which are ready for distribution. They may be had at the Business Agent's office upon the presentation of said sum.

The ring is very beautifully made, with the same seal as before, decorated with the class numerals and a golden tassel.

Any members of the class of fifteen who have not as yet ordered rings are requested to see W. B. Croan, J. T. Gelder or G. C. Rogers.

TO THE FELLOW WHO'LL TAKE MY PLACE.

Here is a toast I want to drink to a fellow I'll never know—
To the fellow who's going to take my place when its time for me to go.
I've wondered what kind of a chap he'll be, and I've wished I could take his hand,
Just to whisper, "I wish you well, old man," in a way that he'd understand,
I'd like to give him the cheering word that I've longed to hear;
I'd like to give him the warm hand clasp when never a friend seems near.
I've learned my knowledge by sheer hard work and I wish I could pass it on
To the fellow who'll come to take my place some day when I am gone.

Will he see all the sad mistakes I've made and not all the battles lost?
Will he ever guess of the tears they caused or the heartaches which they cost?
Will he gaze through the failures and fruitless toil to the underlying plan,
And catch a glimpse of the real intent and the heart of the vanquished man?
I dare to hope he may pause some day as he toils as I have wrought,
And gain some strength for his weary task from the battles which I have fought.

But I've only the task itself to leave with the cares for him to face,
And never a cheering word may speak to the fellow who'll take my place.

Then here's to your health, old chap; I drink as a bridegroom to his bride;
I leave an unfinished task for you, but God knows how I tried.
I've dreamed my dreams as all men do, but never a one came true,
And my prayer today is that all the dreams may be realized by you.
And we'll some day in the great unknown—out in the realms of space;
You'll know my clasp as I take your hand and gaze in your tired face.
Then all your failures will be success in the light of the new found dawn—
So I'm drinking your health, old chap, who'll take my place when I am gone.

NOTICE TO STUDENTS.

Excerpt from the Minutes of the Faculty, February 6, 1914.

Be it resolved by the Faculty of the State University, Lexington, Ky., that hereafter it shall be unlawful for any of the students to smoke in any of the recitation rooms, Y. M. C. A. rooms, Armory, Gymnasium, drawing rooms, hallways, doorways or laboratories of the University; and that it shall be the duty of the professors, assistants and instructors and the Commandant to rigidly enforce this resolution.

For any violation of this resolution the offender shall be summoned before the President of the University, the Commandant and the Dean of the College to which the student belongs, who shall have power and authority to inflict such punishment as in their opinion the offense warrants.

A copy of this resolution shall be posted on the bulletin, announced in chapel and read by every instructor of the University in his classroom within ten days hereof, in order that the student body may be notified of this resolution.

Excerpt from the Minutes of the Faculty, March 6, 1914.

All forms of interference with a student's personal liberty by other students, such as is commonly classed under "hazing," and complicity in any form of initiation which has incident thereto the exhibition of a student as a public spectacle in a ridiculous light, or the treatment of him, publicly or privately, even with his consent, in such a way as to endanger life or limb, are forbidden in this institution.

President of University.

NOTICE, SENIORS!

Seniors desiring to order rings are requested to see one of the committee at once as the last order is soon to be sent to the jewelers. The committee is composed of the following: W. B. Croan, J. T. Gelder and G. C. Rogers.

PROF. L. B. RASMUSSEN LOCATED IN N. Y.

The many friends of Prof. L. B. Rasmussen, who acted as Assistant Physical Director last year, regret his leaving the University and locating elsewhere.

Prof. Rasmussen is now located at Wellsville, N. Y., where he has charge of the recreation work and playground work with the Community Club. He did excellent work here and a most successful career is predicted for him in the new field he has chosen.

The University Library will be open during the session every day except Sunday from 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. and from 7 to 9 p. m. Sunday hours are from 2 to 5 p. m.

Students are invited and expected to use the library freely for reading and study. There are on file about one hundred current magazines and the daily Lexington, Louisville and Frankfort papers.

The librarian and her assistants are glad to answer question and to help the students to find what they need for their work.

The rules are very simple. It is understood that students will observe the usual rule of silence while in the library, for their own sake as well as for others, and they are required to register at the librarian's desk in order to become borrowers. Books MUST BE properly charged before being taken from the library.

Books on the reserve shelves for special class work can only be taken out after five o'clock in the evening, and must be returned the next morning.

mon. Crutcher, last year tackle, will not be out for several days yet as he is working and at present is not able to get away. "Germany" Schrader pulled in from the East Tuesday and is back in harness. Schrader is a handy all around man, able to play either the backfield or at an end, and his superior in kicking is not often seen around these parts. It is probable that he will take care of the end that Tom Zerfoss left vacant.

Several of last year's "Kittens" have been out, including Turner, Vest, Corn, Smith, Rodman, Petrie, Gumbert and others.

New Material Promising.

Among this year's Freshmen out, the most promising are Rodes, of Lexington High; Simpson, from the same place; Hickerson, Hayden and Spalding, from Springfield, and Sole, of Paducah. Earl Grabfelder, former star of the Louisville High School, is expected to be in town in a few days and will be a candidate for a backfield job. Coach Brumage thinks that the Freshman material is the best he has ever seen and we hope that he is not mistaken.

The schedule this year includes five home games, three away, and one open date. The first game will be played September 26, when Wilmington will be the attraction. Maryville follows the Ohlans, playing on October 3. The next Saturday will be open, but it is likely that a good team will be secured to fill in the vacancy. On October 17 the strong eleven from Mississippi A. & M. will meet the Wildcats. This game is probably the best home game of the season. Earlham comes on the next Saturday. The Greys are always pulling surprises on stronger elevens as their game here last year shows, and will be dangerous. The next two Saturdays will be spent away from home, the Wildcats playing in Cincinnati on the 31st and at Purdue on November 7. These two games are sure to be interesting and a big following will probably accompany the team to the Queen City.

Play Purdue This Year.

The Purdue game will probably be the hardest game of the season. The Hoosiers always put out a strong team and give all the Conference elevens a lot of trouble. After the Purdue game the Wildcats will return and play the University of Louisville team here on November 14. This will be the last gridiron battle on Stoll field this year, as the Thanksgiving day battle with the Tennessee Volunteers will be played in Knoxville.

Schedules.

Sept. 26—Wilmington at Lexington.
Oct. 3—Maryville at Lexington.
Oct. 10.—Open.
Oct. 17.—Mississippi A. & M. at Lexington.
Oct. 24.—Earlham at Lexington.
Oct. 31.—University of Cincinnati, at Cincinnati.
Nov. 7.—Purdue, at Lafayette.
Nov. 14.—University of Louisville, at Lexington.
Nov. 26.—Tennessee, at Knoxville.

ALUMNI NOMINATION
BALLOTS OPENED

number of votes to be nominated, and probably will receive the unanimous vote of the women members of the association. Ballots for the final vote will be mailed from the University about October 1.

About 1,200 members of the Alumni Association were entitled to vote, the class of 1914 being barred by law from casting ballots in the election. About 425 ballots were counted, between twenty-five and thirty ballots arriving by special delivery mail after the committee had opened the ballot box and were not counted as the law required all ballots to be in by noon Tuesday.

Miss Emma J. Warner, of Louisville, received sixty-three votes and at one time it seemed that she would be among the first twelve. Others receiving high votes were: H. C. Anderson, Ann Arbor, Mich., 70 votes; John A. Dean, Owensboro, 63; L. B. Allen, Huntington, W. Va., 46; W. J. Baxter, Michigan, 30; C. H. Nesbit, Madisonville, 54.

Should Mr. Lyle, of New York City, be named as one of the six trustees in December it will, it is said, develop a nice legal point, as some graduates of the University are of the opinion that no non-resident of Kentucky is entitled to membership on the Board of Trustees. This point will, however, not become of serious import unless Mr. Lyle is one of the six chosen in December.

The ballots were opened in the office of Judge W. T. Lafferty, who acted as secretary of the executive committee. Members of the committee present when the ballots were opened were C. B. Nichol, Richard C. Stoll, Claude B. Terrell and President H. S. Barker, ex-officio member. Many members of the Alumni Association were present.

THOUSAND STUDENTS
REGISTER TUESDAY

Many More Expected to Enter.—Class Work Began Wednesday Morning.

The opening of the forty-ninth session of the University is very favorable of a large attendance. Nearly one thousand had entered Tuesday afternoon and many more are expected to arrive before the end of the week.

President Barker is well pleased with the present matriculation and holds visions of another victorious year. The students are divided in the several departments with three leading colleges with the majority. The Arts and Science Department shows some increase and in time will be the favorite school around which the University should develop. Over two hundred students have registered in the Mechanical Department. The three upper classes are large, yet the new men form the largest class in that department.

The Agricultural College received as usual, far more than its usual percentage of increase. Students of cities and farms have come to prepare themselves for aid to the agricultural world. On account of the State Fair and since several professors are there with exhibits from the Experiment Station farm, there will be no classes in the Agricultural Department until Monday.

The Law Department has many new students along with the advanced classes. Several new men in this department have joined one of the upper classes. Judge Lafferty is well pleased with the prospect and expects to continue the upbuilding of his department.

The other colleges have also many new student along with the advanced classes.

For the first time in several years class work began promptly Wednesday morning. From the work of the deans in classifying students before they leave each spring or by mail, the rush is somewhat eliminated and work begins earlier without any hesitation. Real work is on until after the examinations of the first semester.

PROF. J. J. TIGERT
TO COACH FRESHMEN

Many Have Already Reported.—Several Games to Be Arranged.

The Athletic Association have engaged Prof. J. J. Tigert to coach the Freshman foot ball team for this season. A number of Freshmen have already reported and the prospect is good for a winning team. These are from high school teams over the State. Among these are Sole, of Paducah; Grabfelder, of Louisville High School; Hayden, Hickerson and Spalding, of Springfield; Rodes and Simpson, from Lexington High. Some of the new men with consistent training are likely to be found in fast company.

Prof. Tigert is a coach of excellent ability. He had charge of the Varsity last fall and did superb work. A schedule will be arranged and these Freshmen will be introduced to the college style of foot ball.

VARSITY HAND-BOOK
ISSUED BY O. S. LEE

Under the Direction of Y. M. C. A.,
Paul Gerhard, Business Manager.

The Varsity Hand-Book that has been put out under the direction of the University Young Men's Christian Association since Mr. Edward Hall has been in charge was issued this summer by Owen S. Lee, of the Arts and Science Department.

The book is bound in beautiful black covers and contains valuable information and at the same time an ideal diary.

In work of this kind originality is a difficult part, yet Mr. Lee has added several new features to the Kentucky Hand-Book.

Some of the new features are as follows: A folder of oiled paper in the back for stamps; directions for registration; University telephone directory; spiritual thermometer; list of "K" men; class colors; walks and rides around the city.

Mr. Lee said that the contents were curtailed in order to have the book published at contract price. Among the things that failed to get by the "censorship" for this reason were write-ups for strollers, advice for matriculating to new students and others of importance.

DR. W. L. ANDERSON
PHYSICAL DIRECTOR

Selected to Succeed Mr. Brummage in Gym Work.

Dr. W. L. Anderson, formerly of Yale University, professor of physical education at the University, has just arrived and is preparing for his work. Owing to the confusion incident to the opening days of the University, Prof. Anderson is unable to state in detail his plans for the coming term.

It is Prof. Anderson's intention to arrange for lectures on physical training during the coming year and greatly enlarge the scope of the work in that department. Though Prof. Anderson will make his home in Lexington this fall his wife will remain at their residence in New Haven Conn. Prof. Anderson states the gymnasium at the University is in excellent shape and provided with the best of equipment.

Prof. Anderson is a graduate of Yale University, having received an M. D. degree there in 1904. Since then he has been connected with the athletic department as instructor for the various field team and out-of-door athletics. Prof. Anderson's father, Dr. W. G. Anderson has been in charge of the athletic and physical training department of Yale for many years.

Owing to the increased interest in the athletic and physical training department of State University, the authorities found it necessary to employ another professor for that department, which was in charge of Alpha Brummage last year. During the 1914-15 school term, Mr. Brummage will be coach of the athletic teams.

The IDEA extends a cordial welcome to all old and new students of State University. We rejoice to have you in the institution, that all may be benefited by your coming. The IDEA is ever at your service and if we can assist you in any way, we will do so with a willing hand.

May you ever be so welcome here and our prayer is that the year will be both beneficial and gratifying to those who have come for real benefit.

"INITIUM."

Few weeks has passed since we went away. These have been spent by many in the abode of their early childhood. We have rejoiced to meet our friends there but now we return to begin anew our course or to continue our faithful pursuit. Only a few days before the falling of the leaves we have come from our native hamlets and as the old classes assemble we notice, however, the absence of former friends, who rejoiced and tolled with us.

The real beginning only refers to the new students; for others it is only an advance installment. Our new comers begin college work, which is guided with an ambition to reach out in the near future with a strong arm to uplift the state and society. While this is paramount, he is at the same time introduced to the mysteries of college life.

It is our wish to see at the close of this year, many victories won and many obstacles overcome. Year by year the University grows and the faculty knows that the boys and girls turned out each June are prepared to handle their work for which they have made ready.

During these days of peace in our great country chimes and bells are heard from the belfries, instead of the roar of cannon and musketry. We will pursue the mysteries of art and science, while the war lords of Europe destroy works that may never be replaced, without referring to the deaths and sufferings of mankind.

(O)

DEVELOPMENT.

Very often young men, graduates of the University, declare that State has made great progress within the last few years. Large and spacious buildings have been prepared for the increase of students. However, during the time of the present seekers, no buildings have been constructed, nevertheless the student body has increased nearly one hundred per cent.

Along with the influx of students the curriculum has been extended. The College of Law has arranged a four-year course leading to the degree of B. C. L. From the influence of our late Commandant, Lieut. A. W. Gullion, a course in Military Science, leading to the B. S. degree, was added to the Arts and Science Department. The course was designated to prepare men for citizenship as well as to know something of the art of war.

Passing from these the latest development has been in the establishment of the Department of Journalism. Mr. Enoch Grehan, ex-city editor of The Herald, has been obtained to take charge of the work. This is to become one of our leading departments, as journalists are needed by the press. The press has an extensive influence on society and men and women prepared for such work while in college, can more easily overcome many obstacles.

Mr. Grehan is a man with a wide knowledge of the newspaper world and the institution is proud to have him as the head of the new work.

"THE VALLEY OF POISON."

Mythology, with its darkly silent mysteries, contained a poisonous valley. Every bird that attempted to fly over the lake Avernus was drawn into the abyss by some unknown power. In the island of Java is situated what is known as "The Valley of Poison." It is strewn with the bones of birds and beasts which have been suffocated by its carbonic gases.

Today the world contains many lakes of Avernus, over which it is impossible to soar without being contaminated with evil influences. Some of these valleys exist in the form of impurity of deeds and words.

The birds and beasts rush on to their doom, ignorant of the fate of their predecessors. Look backward and see how man, one after another, dips into poisonous depths, knowing well the effect which will be wrought.

Some declare that they want to become acquainted with all phases of life. Men have at times seemingly come forth from impurity, boasting of their experience, but how much prouder should he be if such experience had never been realized. The scarred soul can never recover completely from its inflictions.

We would shudder at the thought of maiming the body in order to become acquainted with the circumstance, yet, the body can be healed easier than a soul that has been diseased by impure deeds.

The surroundings of men have seldom, if ever, been ideal. The serpent has remained coiled since Adam left Eden. Provided the people of the city and State do not give us the proper surroundings we should guard more closely our actions.

If any people need pure thoughts, deeds and surroundings, it is surely college students. These men are some day to be the scholars and leaders of society.

Fellow students, remember the sacrifices that have been made for you. Remember the eagerness with which your parents have cared for you. Be aware of the affairs and way of evil in a city. Refrain and you will win. Join the evil host and your end will be as "One who rode the storms when the seas were rough.

Yet in some quiet hour, fell off."

PROHIBITION AND THE UNIVERSITY.

When the A. and M. College was established in 1869, the question of prohibition had just begun to appear on the horizon of public opinion. At that time it was not considered a gross wrong or indecent to gather and feast with wine-bibbers. Men, however, have come to the conclusion that such surroundings are injurious to the general society.

The student of the University is only human. His temptations are the same as those of the average citizen. Few always drift with the ebbing tide to the bar, where finally they will be carried away by the beaker. The majority of students are endowed with so high a sense of morality for themselves and for their fellow men, as not to sacrifice their energies in alcoholic dissipation.

Parents hesitate to send their sons and daughters to an institution where inebriety is a constant menace to the young in which The IDEA is especially interested. Local option may not prohibit exclusively the dispensing of alcoholic beverages, but it will certainly remove the grogshop from the principal streets where respectable girls and boys are compelled to pass frequently.

Those who are addicted to strong drink lose their mental efficiency. Employers have ceased to engage men who drink. Science has warned men that such potions are destructible. The moral tone of a student body is weakened by the influence of strong drink.

The State lawmakers have acknowledged that the sale of strong drink is demoralizing by forcing saloons five hundred feet away from the campus of State University. Also the Kentucky Statutes provide that it is unlawful to sell alcoholic drinks to student in any school under the control of the Commonwealth.

The IDEA has neither desire or purpose to participate in the present conflict in Lexington between the "wets" and "drys," but prefers rather to confine whatever influence it may possess to the admonition that the student has it in his own hands, so far as this institution is concerned, to solve the problem effectually and finally by remaining away from such grogshops and allowing them to fight out their own battle for existence without help from him.

OUR POLICY.

Since The IDEA was organized it has been a difficult job to meet its expenses. The business managers have always had a hard time to meet the expenses of the paper. This is about to be overcome. Before the student body has been slow in subscribing, as several students would read the same paper.

This season opens with every student as a subscriber. The IDEA, through the courtesy of the Executive Committee, has been placed on the list with athletics and other student activities.

The papers will be given out at the Business Agent's office by the subscription Manager to every student of the University. No subscription cards were issued as every student will be given the paper and The IDEA does not fear that any one will take advantage of the no-card system and get more papers than he should receive.

The IDEA has for some time past put out a mechanical page and this is to be continued. The Agricultural Department will be given as much space as is needed for their news and at the same time every college is to have an associate editor, with a department in the weekly college Journal. By arranging this plan the news in general with departmental information, the entire news of the University will be given to the subscribers.

The IDEA box will be placed in the Main Building, where news items can be deposited. By the co-operation of the students, and the different departments, the paper will be much improved and at the same time the editor will be relieved of the task of trying to furnish the University news.

UNIVERSITY PRESS GROWING RAPIDLY

Constant Demand for University and Agricultural Bulletins.

The University Press, although established less than one year ago, now occupies nearly all of the basement floor of the Education Building. From the installment it has continued to grow and new equipment is continually being furnished to meet the demand.

The press is growing to be a great factor of the University. Here are issued all the bulletins of the different colleges and of the University, along with the Agricultural Experiment Station bulletins

Mr. Egbert has been in charge since the establishment and very satisfactory work is being accomplished. The publications in connection with the University are very large and a large sum is saved annually by this system. The department expects to purchase new machinery so that more rapid work may be performed. In this field several students are employed, thus giving worthy students a chance to work their way through college.

SENIOR DRAWING ROOM REMODELED

To Accommodate Large Class.—Over Two Hundred Matriculates.

The College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering opens for the term of 1914-1915 with a matriculation that will pass the two hundred mark. The Senior class with over thirty members will rank as one of the largest top classes in this college, and it also has the reputation of being one of the best prepared classes that has ever gone through the College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering.

The Senior quarters have been remodeled to take care of this class. New tables and drawing boards have been placed in the drawing room, and the walls and ceiling have been enameled white. Five large indirect lighting fixtures have been installed that will give the nearest approach to daylight possible to obtain by artificial illumination.

The Junior, Sophomore, and Freshman drawing rooms and the shops and laboratories have all been repainted and the equipment put in good order.

The organization of the department has been slightly modified, and for the purposes of classification the college has been divided into five schools.

The organization and faculty for the year 1914-1915 is as follows:

F. Paul Anderson, Dean of the College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering and Director of the Experimental Laboratories.

School of Mechanical Engineering: F. Paul Anderson, Professor of Mechanical Engineering and head professor; A. L. Wilhoite, Assistant Professor of Experimental Steam Engineering; P. R. Cassidy, Assistant Professor of Thermodynamics.

School of Electrical Engineering: W. E. Freeman, Professor of Electrical Engineering and head professor; J. R. Duncan, Instructor of Electrical Engineering.

School of Mechanics of Engineering: L. K. Frankel, Professor of Applied Mechanics and head professor; J. J. Curtis, Assistant Professor of Testing Materials.

School of Drawing: L. E. Nollau, Professor of Drawing and head professor; J. S. Horine, Assistant Professor of Drawing; Miss Mary McPherson, Instructor in Freehand Drawing.

School of Practical Mechanics: Joseph Dicker, Superintendent of shops and head professor; John Dicker, Instructor in Wood Shop; Gordon Thurman, Assistant in Steam and Electrical Laboratories; Jesse V. Baxter, Engineer and Assistant in wood shop; Isaac Watkins, Engineer in Experimental Laboratories; Mrs. Nell H. Turner, Secretary to the Dean of the College; Miss Ethel Jelley, mimeographist.

Misses Helen and Marjorie Lowry have secured a year's leave of absence to continue their studies in art in New York City. Miss Mary McPherson, a graduate of the Pratt Institute of Brooklyn, has been secured to take charge of this work.

Miss McPherson has done a great deal of commercial design work in Louisville and comes highly recommended.

STATE ALUMNI TO PUBLISH BULLETIN

The Alumni of Kentucky State will no longer have a special part in The IDEA. They have come to the conclusion that it is better to publish an official publication of the Alumni. The greater portion of the news in The IDEA is concerning the students and faculty, so they will issue a monthly publication pertaining exclusively to their own members and the benefit of the University.

It is expected that the journal will begin with a large circulation and grow until nearly every alumnus or alumnna will be on the subscription list. The price will be one dollar per year and Mr. _____, of Cincinnati, has been selected as editor-in-chief.

MUCH IMPROVEMENT ON STATE'S CAMPUS

Buildings Repaired and Painted, Lawn and Trees Very Typical.

The authorities of the University have spent much time and labor in remodeling and beautifying. The Main Building has been improved by painting and many new fixtures. The basement of that building has been prepared for class work with several nice rooms. The Department of Journalism has been given a splendid room which is well equipped.

The two dormitories occupied by the boys have been recrimlined and painted. All who live in these apartments are very grateful to the much improved conditions.

The campus, which was injured by the summer drought, has taken on a magnificent blue green since the late August rains. The trees have been protected by "wood doctors," and display the grandeur of "God's first temples." The custodian of the grounds is very particular about beautifying and has spent most of his time in caring for the walks and lawns.

All that is necessary to preserve the same conditions is for the students to display due respects for our property. With the co-operation of these, Kentucky's lawn and campus could not be surpassed in the college kingdom.

"K" REGISTER OF 1913-1914 TEAMS

During the past year the Athletic Association has awarded a total of 47 "K's" in the various forms of athletics. The foot ball men made the largest number, as usual. For the second time in the history of athletics at the University, the girl's basket ball team were given the athletic emblem. There are only a few schools that allow co-eds to be given the athletic emblem. With girls inter-collegiate athletics are becoming unpopular, it will, perhaps, be only a short time until they will no longer have the privilege of wearing the coveted letter. The men who were given the "K's" at the State last year were worthy in every case and all who return to school this season will no doubt do good work on the teams again.

PATRONIZE YOUR FRIENDS.

Read Carefully the Following Facts and Then Act Accordingly.

In this age of wide and expensive advertising the average merchant must place his ads where they will yield the greatest returns for the money invested. In a city where there are several educational institutions, he feels that he is too often called upon to support the college publications. So believing that the outlay is of little value, he regards a request to advertise in a college paper often as a form of charity, or a polite hold-up. But let us see if this is really a correct view to take of the situation. The students bring into Lexington each year a revenue of approximately $500,000. Where does this money go? Practically 95 per cent of this sum eventually finds a resting place in the safes of the business men of Lexington. The merchants who receive the largest share are those who attract and please the majority of students. As a means of attracting the attention of students, we believe that The IDEA, because of its wide circulation, is one of the best advertising mediums issued in the city. It is read more by the students than any other publication, because all of its news deals directly with those things which are interesting to college people. Many merchants have always been willing to take space as their business demands and for such support we are very grateful.

Now coming a little closer to the point it seems that the maxim, "Live and Let Live," finds a ready application here. We only know our friends by the manifestations associated with friendship. So let us show our appreciation of the merchants and business men who patronize us by dealing with them. When you wish to purchase say "I saw your ad in The IDEA." While we do not advocate a boycott policy yet it seems only justice and common sense to help those who help us.

You should feel no hesitation in dealing with any firm whose name appears in these columns because years of experience has proved that no more progressive, reliable or accommodating men are to be found in any city.

The foregoing statements have been made after careful consideration of both the students' and merchants' interests and we urge that each one carefully consider the obligations incident to each and act accordingly.

ONE SOLUTION.

A doctor who was giving an informal talk on physiology, declared that he had lately been found that the human body contains sulphur.

"Oh, indeed," exclaimed a young lady listener, "then how much sulphur is there in a girl's body?"

"Well," said the doctor, "the amount varies."

"And is that," asked the girl, "why some of us make so much better matches than others?"

EDITORIAL TABLES GIVEN DEPARTMENT

Constructed by Mechanical Department Under Supervision of Jack Dicker.

The School of Journalism has been supplied with a set of editorial tables, of which Professor Grehan is very proud. The tables ordinarily seen in such environment are usually of soft pine, carved, burnt by innumerable cigar stubs, and pasted over with ancient yellow editorial clippings.

The tables for the School of Journalism were constructed under the supervision of Jack Dicker, in the mechanical shops of the engineering department. All are of oak, hand-polished and rubbed. There is a big city editor's desk of the latest approved pattern, a large exchange table and twelve individual editorial tables.

Matriculation in the College of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering closed Tuesday with a total enrollment materially in excess of that for the corresponding time last year. At the time of closing, 84 Freshmen, 45 Sophomores, 23 Juniors and 31 Seniors had been enrolled, a total of 184. Class work starts this morning and all laboratories, shops and drawing rooms will be under normal schedules.

STAFF SOON TO BE NAMED IN FULL

Each Department to Have a Representative on The IDEA.

As soon as it can possibly be arranged, the staff of The IDEA will be named in full. Each department is to have a representative on our college weekly. The Mechanical representative is to be selected by the Dynamic Engineering Society. "Bill" Cross represented the Mechanical and Electrical Department during the season of 1913-14 and gave valuable assistance in putting out that news.

A representative from the Agricultural College will be selected by the Agricultural Society. This department deserves an important part in the weekly.

The representatives from other departments will be selected by a society in that college or appointed by the editor. The management desires the co-operation of the departments and at the same time retains the authority to have a new man selected at any time the representative from said department is willfully delinquent in doing the work.

They may at present find some difficulty in writing as the news of the world seems to be war, yet after some practice of pressing the pen it will assume an easy gliding motion.

It is impossible for one or more to obtain all the valuable news of the University when they are not directly connected with the department about which they are to write.

What could be gathered was published in this issue and the staff desires to obtain more general information for the next issue.

Each student in the college is requested to write up items, jokes or other things of interest and place same in The IDEA box. Should they not be published do not suppose they were discarded willfully for space may not permit.

The editor requests that all news items shall be signed by the author, but the name will not be given with each article and when requested not to do so the article will not be credited to the author.

KENTUCKY'S HIGH SCHOOLS GET IDEA

Will Be Sent Weekly From Beginning of School Year.

Beginning with the first issue of The IDEA a copy will be sent to all high schools of the State. Last year arrangement was made to send these the paper beginning with the first of the year. The staff has about completed plans for the distribution and each high school will receive a copy from the first issue as a gift.

The IDEA receives some papers from high schools as exchanges, but many such schools do not issue a journal. The news of the institution will be to the high schools and since nearly every school in the State is represented at the University, all will find some interesting items.

UNION LITERARY SOCIETY BEGINS

First Meeting Saturday Night, Third Floor, 7:30 O'clock, Alumni Hall.

The Union Literary Society will hold its first meeting in the Society hall on the third floor of the Alumni Hall on Saturday night, September 19.

All old members are requested to be present and at the same time visitors are cordially invited to come and enjoy the evening with the regular members.

On account of important work the society is forced to begin work at once and the program will be found on the bulletin board which is stationed in the hall of the Main Building.
